Lake County's 34th annual fair and 4-H Club Show opened Wednesday, July 25, and will continue for five days and nights ending Sunday night, July 29.

The fair is being held on the Lake County Fair Grounds located at the junction of routes 45 and 120, about 10 miles west of Waukegan and 1 mile east of Grayslake.

More than $15,000 in prizes are being awarded to exhibitors in livestock, crops, vegetables, flowers, domestic arts, and fine arts.

The fair will also feature exhibits of farm machinery and equipment, home improvements and household appliances, and many educational exhibits.

Lake County's 1300 4-H Club members will have several hundred exhibits depicting their numerous project activities. In addition to the exhibits by the 4-H members, these young people presented an all-day horse show on Wednesday, July 25, starting at 10 a.m., and a talent show in the evening on the stage in front of the grandstand.

Thursday, Friday, and Saturday evenings will feature the famous Calzavara Bar M Ranch rodeo. These performances will take place in the arena starting at 8 p.m. The evening rodeo performances will be followed by a huge fireworks spectacle.

Sunday's program will be highlighted by the horse show starting at 9:30 a.m. with the halter classes and continuing with the performance classes at 1 p.m. A carnival atmosphere will prevail at the Fair Grounds, with a huge midway with its booths and thrill rides.

Saturday, July 28, at 2 p.m., Champion Stock will be sold at a public auction. Last year the reserve champion steer was purchased by Joseph Patrovsky of the Antioch Packing Co.

Semi-finals in the contest for Lake County Queen will be held Friday evening.

Betty Amendola, Queen of the Antioch Festival, has been entered in the race for Lake County Queen by the Jaycees.

A Good Deed Felt By Many

A good deed spreads a warming influence that touches many lives as surely as corruption spreads like an infectious rot.

A recent incident we heard of pointed up this fact heart-warmingly. A young Antioch lady lost her wallet in Waukegan. She was worried and depressed at the loss of the money and the papers it contained, driver's license, etc.

Before she reached home someone had called to report finding the wallet. When she went to pick it up, she offered the finder a reward, overjoyed at recovering the wallet with the contents intact.

The finder refused. She explained that she had lost her own wallet just the week before. She had offered the finder a reward, to have it refused, with the words, "Just do the same for someone else some day if you have the chance."

Congratulations to whoever started this beneficent chain. Long may it spread.

Carey Electric Co. Receives Charter

The I. W. Carey Electric and Plumbing Shop of Antioch was issued a charter of incorporation on July 9, 1962, according to a bulletin issued by Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter.

The charter was issued to Irving W. Carey, Georgiana M. Carey and Ted C. Larson, to buy and sell electrical and plumbing fixtures and material for both retail and wholesale, and allied functions.

Carey Electric & Plumbing Co. was established in Antioch on March 1, 1935. The store has been in the same location on Main St. for the 27 years of its existence.

James Leksich is general chairman for the festival, working with Rev. Alfred J. Henderson and Rev. Lawrence Hanley. All officers of the Holy Name Society and Altar and Rosary Society are part of the planning committee.

Proceeds of the festival will go to the fund for the St. Peter Youth Center, nearing completion.

"Maxwell Street Days" -- A Reminder of the Past

By Jay Nash

Oldtimers may remember the bustling crowds, hawked at from every quarter by shabby salesmen, that went chaotically up and down Maxwell Street in Chicago during those nostalgic horse-and-buggy days. The Street in those days was a maze of push carts, open-area food markets swarming with flies and bundle-laden men shouting their wares, which consisted of everything from tooth brushes to diamond rings. The surly, affable, conniving, threatening salesmen jostled passersby and lashed them with verbal onslaught equal only to the Tower of Babel.

Goods were brought from all over the Midwest then, to be sold on Maxwell Street where the poor immigrant, who slaved in Armour's stockyards, and the low-salaried office worker purchased their bargains, bathing in the luxury of being able to buy "extras" outside of their hum-drum routine of budget spending. Offered up for sale in the melee of crushed humanity struggling to buy and sell were Persian rugs, Indian trinkets, horse blankets, expensive furs and jewelry—from cheap, shoddy trash to priceless gems.

Antioch, carrying on the tradition of the Street in its fifth consecutive year, will again hold its "Maxwell Street Days" celebration on August 2, 3 and 4. Thirty-one merchants so far are participating in the affair which is expected to draw thousands of persons from outside the Antioch Area.

The colorful sidewalk sales will feature racks and tables placed outside of the community's stores, exhibiting items marked down to drastic discounts.

Several of the local merchants, while being interviewed, responded enthusiastically to questions concerning the event.

Stanley Toton (Klass Men's Store) stated that the affair would "give Antioch a carnival atmosphere." His store will display wearing apparel items.

Robert Wilton (Wilton's Electric Shop) viewed the event as "getting the people acquainted with the town." His shop will show price-reduced vacuum cleaners, lamps, floor polishers, air conditioners and an assortment of small appliances starting at 13c.

The Towne Variety Store proprietor, Elmer Baethke, announced that the "Maxwell Street Days" idea was a "good promotion for the merchant and for the public, too."

"The show brings a lot of people into town," Charles Keulman of Keulman's Jewelry and Williams Hardware store stated. "The merchants have in the past and will offer good merchandise at substantial savings."

Ken Zetzerman of Ken's Outlet cited that "we want people to know there's a town called Antioch and not too far from them. Maxwell Street days gives merchants the opportunity to show people we're interested in them."

"This is a good project for the retail merchants," Harold Nelson of Nelson's Real Estate said. "It gets people in town to look around. The entire community benefits from it."

"It's a terrific thing," Art Meyer of Art's Paint Store stated jubilantly. "It helps us and the public gets a good deal." Art's will display paint, draperies, rug samples and contact.

Manager of the Ben Franklin Store, John Stevens, commented that it was a time of the year the people wait for—when their dollar will mean more. The store will show a wide assortment of goods beginning in price at 2c.

Ray Jenssen, who will display clothing and sporting goods in the show for the Gibbs and Jenssen store said that a "lot more people come to town and they come to a different atmosphere. Everyone enjoys it."

The hoopla and ballyhoo associated with the Maxwell Street Days' celebration is expected to highlight the three days of bargain hunting. With the coming of August's casual days, the street sale should provide a pleasant pastime for the pick-and-choose buyer always on the alert for that purchase he can call a "steal."

Rescue Squad Dance Aug. 4

Saturday night, August 4, is the date set for the benefit dance for the Antioch Rescue Squad. King Jaros and his band will furnish the music. Dancing will start at 9 p.m. and continue until an unspecified time.

The dance will open the campaign to raise money for a needed new truck for the Squad. Rescue Squad members are continually on the alert for new, improved life-saving techniques and equipment. The older truck must soon be replaced, and some of this new equipment will be a valuable addition on the new truck.

The dance will be held at the new Froese-Sno Factory at Ida and Anita Avenue. Admission will be free, the party serving as a kick-off for the fund-raising project.

He announced that for each tire sold during a recent sale he had, he would donate $1.00 to the Hospital Fund.

Two hundred tires were sold during the course of the sale. True to his word, Mr. Meyers presented a check for $200.00 to J. B. J. Hooper, treasurer of the Hospital Association.

The accident occurred when a car attempted to pass Koehn on a hill and a car came over the hill going in the opposite direction. Koehn's car was hit head-on. He suffered a broken leg, hand injury and chest and rib injuries. He is in Keno-sha Hospital.

High Under In Auction

Were you the highest bidder on the bike in the window of the Antioch News?

Did you just get "beat out"? How much below the retail value of the bike was the high bid?

These are some of the questions people are waiting to have answered as the week-long mail auction draws to a close.

The auction ended at midnight Wednesday. Name of the highest bidder was placed in the News window Thursday morning.

The next mail auction with a new item to bid on will start on Thursday, August 2 and continue for a week.

The item to be auctioned will be announced in The Antioch News of August 2, along with the name of the winner of the first auction.

Sale of Licenses For Fishermen Zooms

Village Clerk Clarence Shultis recently reported that the sale of fishing licenses in the Antioch area has zoomed to amazing proportions this year.

Shultis stated that he expects to handle the sale of 14,000 to 15,000 licenses during the regular season. About 1,200 hunting licenses are usually sold during the season but Shultis claimed that the "hunters are dropping off."

Cost of state fishing licenses to residents figures at $2.35. Non-residents are charged $4.50 or $2.25 for ten days. The State inaugurated a special license this year for persons over 65 at 65c cost. Children under 16 years are not required to have licenses.

With the launching of Telstar and its resulting TV communication between two continents, a whole series of international problems have developed.

Preparing to receive the U.S. picture for months, the English claimed that they would be the first to show and send instant TV communication to and from the West. The French, however, apparently intent on upholding their national honor, outdid the English and sent their own scratchy but nevertheless visible pictures ahead of anyone else in Europe.

Jubilant ran the streets of France. The Marseillaise was sung with gusto. Paris lit up the Eiffel Tower and the Arch of Triumph. The English were bitter and hurtled insults across the Channel.

The French were called dirty, underhanded so-and-sos. Englishmen were labeled pompous soreheads and bad sports.

All name-calling in the final irony remaining is that Telstar, which was intended to solidify foreign friendships, has somehow provoked bitter rivalry and intense animosities.

Another progressive advancement of modern science.

Water Skiers and Bathers

Recently, a woman came into the News office asking if we had any information, or could get any, concerning the laws governing water-skiing on the Lakes. She complained that skiers were making swimming areas around beaches unsafe.

Her complaint struck a responsive chord. We had recently sat on a beach and watched a group of skiers sweeping in and out of a beach area where a group of children were swimming, cutting dangerously close to them, and had wondered the same thing ourselves.

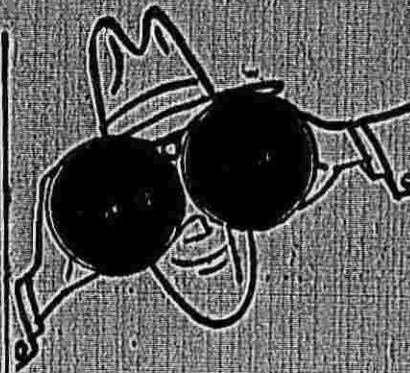

So far as we've been able to discover, the only actual law governing skiers is that the boat pulling the skier must contain two persons, one to drive and one to watch the skier. Obviously, this law is designed to protect the skier.

However, in answer to the lady's question, the power boats pulling the skiers are governed by law. Each power boat carrying more than a ten-horsepower motor is registered and must carry a number. If you see any of these boats being operated in a reckless manner, you can take the number of the boat and report it to the Sheriff's Water Safety Patrol.

We hesitate to advocate more laws. There are already too many laws to be interpreted and enforced. Many of these laws, including any that might be made limiting skiers, would be unnecessary if people used common courtesy and consideration.

There is certainly no need for a skier to swing dangerously close to a group of swimmers. Only a complete disregard for the rights of others, a selfish and concentrated pursuit of his own pleasure, heedless of the pleasures of anyone else, could prompt such an act.

We see no reason why a comparatively small group of skiers and power boat operators should be allowed to deprive the hundreds who swim and fish from safe use of the lakes, simply because their craft is bigger, more powerful, and represents a larger investment.

Tolerance has become the 11th social commandment (Don't ask me for the other ten, please). Through this word, a religion in itself to some, one becomes fashionable, one joins the popular crusade. How can you criticize a tolerant person?

The word's meaning today is to accept and/or grant the existence of all other things to oneself—races, creeds and the like. In itself, this interpretation of the word is valuable to our civilization. However, the connotation goes much deeper. Tolerance in our society takes on the aspects of a non-committal, blasé, middle-of-the-road perspective. One does not act on tolerance. It merely exists.

You are tolerant and therefore a good fellow—an open-minded individual endorsing democratic rights. You are not obligated necessarily to protect other person's rights simply because you are tolerant of them.

You are tolerant. That is enough. That is your social, political and economic vice. There are those, of course, who use tolerance as a vehicle to transport themselves before an acceptable public eye. They preach a good fight, the honest fight. They, like Lenin and Trotsky, rabble-rousing the Russian masses to revolution, appeal emotionally to intuitive instincts rather than clear logic and are consequently vaulted to high places of power and influence.

Take, for instance, a popular daily columnist of a Chicago newspaper. He is apparently intent, without allowing a normal procedure of the law to go unchallenged, in demanding that an elected governor of a state commute the death sentence of a convicted killer who confessed to the cold-blooded murder of another human being.

This argument is that the killer is a "rehabilitated" man, a man no longer capable of murder. The columnist fails to realize that the courts of this country, specifically in this case the state, try a man for what he has done, whether he be black or white, not for what he might do. Should the governor commute the sentence of this confessed murderer because of widespread publicity, he denies the validity of the courts and the state laws. In this sense, why should we bother to have a judicial system in effect? Let us elect an autocrat to govern and let all life and death decisions rest with him without trying an individual in a court of law. But who is the man who would dare assume such god-like powers? Certainly no representative of a democratic people.

I am not arguing against the case of the killer, which is really a case of the law, since I am strongly opposed to capital punishment but for maintenance of the law instead of anarchy and mob rule. The worst kind of coercion is being practiced here. Bringing public pressure to bear against an individual who is obligated to abide by the law or appear to be the tool of circulation-hungry newspapers is unscrupulous and without consideration of the majority's opinion. The columnist, preaching the fashionable crusade, will go unmarred through this incident either way the tide of decision washes. If the killer receives a commuted sentence, he will claim victory—he saved the life of a human being. Should the killer die in the electric chair, well, it was a valiant effort. "I did my best, folks. I put my reputation on the chopping block for an unknown and unfortunate man. Could you ask more of me?" he might say. Yes, Mr. Kucinich. Only that you remember that newspapers are not, with all the principles held sacred in the code of journalism, meant to dictate to the duly-elected representatives of the people.

In conclusion, I can only say that if the sentence of Paul Crump is commuted, the law stipulating capital punishment must be revoked and I am, as I have previously

Courthouse Notebook

BY LOU BUNKIN

County Highway Superintendent M. E. Amstutz turned author recently to label as "scurrilous" the recent exposure of graft and corruption in the federal highway building program which appeared in Look Magazine.

Amstutz, in a letter to the Editor, took offense at the suggestion that the program is "scurrilous" in veinality and corruption and wrote a stirring defense of his fellow engineers in state and county highway departments.

The veteran county highway boss has good reason to be unhappy because exposes and stories of graft and corruption inevitably hit the thousands of competent, honest, dedicated public servants and public officials as hard as they hit the dishonest officials.

Too often the same stories gloss over the obvious fact that it still takes two to tango and if there is a bribe taker there has to be a bribe giver, if there is corruption there has to be a corruptor.

The same situation has developed in the recent state police scandals with hundreds of fine, career policemen living under a cloud because of the gift-taking of a few of them.

As yet there has been no identification of the open-handed trucking companies who made the gifts which corrupted the guilty patrolmen and they are doubly guilty since the chances are better than even that gifts were made to cover up law violations.

Certainly public officials who violate their trust should be punished, but the innocent shouldn't be made to suffer with them and the other parties to the corruption should not be credited with business astuteness and acumen because they were able to violate the law with impunity.

It seems to us that one of the most important problems facing the American people today is the cynicism with which public officials or politicians are regarded.

A person can have an unblemished record on Monday, be elected to public office on Tuesday and be regarded as a crook and scoundrel on Wednesday, before he even finds his way to the public till.

This attitude is directed towards school board members, aldermen, village trustees, supervisors, public officials at all levels.

If we have so little trust and confidence in our local officials with whom we are acquainted, how can we have trust and confidence in our national leaders whom we know only by reputation?

If we don't have confidence in them, how can we follow them in times of crisis?

This willingness to accept as a normal thing dishonesty in our elected officials seems to me as great a danger to the future of this country as Communism at home or abroad.

John Conolly, GOP nominee for State Representative, will be testimonialized by friends and backers on Aug. 1, but they are trying something new.

Instead of a dinner or golf outing the Conolly crew has taken over the Academy Theatre in Waukegan for a special showing of "Advice and Consent," the controversial movie from the best-seller of the same name which gives an interesting behind the scenes view of machinations of the U. S. Senate.

The race is not always to the swift.

I hope Rep. W. J. Murphy made it home in time to cope with whatever grave emergency demanded his attention the other night.

We're sure it must have been a serious matter. No one should so flagrantly exceed the speed limit in 25 and 35 mile zones—especially in an area where little children are often at play—unless his presence was sorely needed.

Maybe our representative is confused as to what kind of race he's training for. The qualifications for the electoral race and the one at Indianapolis are different, Representative.

The Ivy League met Thursday evening at Mrs. Floyd Stanley's home. The party will be held in the basement of Mrs. Stanley's home, 2314 Valley Drive. Since the first of this year, League 16 has donated $661 to the Ivy League Foundation. Funds were raised through a bazaar, games, parties and percentage from a food booth at the Lindenhurst Block party.

Also discussed was the bazaar the ladies will sponsor in the late fall. Mrs. Thor (Zenia) Neumann finished an all white shawl which will be disposed of at the bazaar.

Lindenhurst Daisies
Our Lindenhurst 4-H Club, Daisies Juniors and Seniors, did themselves proud at the Lake County Farm and Home Bureau last week. Donna Anderson was runner-up for championship skirt sewer in the first year classes. Winners of blue ribbons in the Juniors were Janet Diskson and Linda Howe. Carol Langager and Linda Windorff received green ribbons with a B plus rating.

Juniors Linda and Jean Bywell both received blue ribbons. Donna Maxwell and Maxine Shuttles received green ribbons.

Seniors who received blue ribbons were Pat Wallock, Lorrie Lewis, Marianne Smith and Carolyn Westberg. The girls modeled their garments at the Mundein High School auditorium. Hundreds of contestants competed for the chance to represent Lake County at the State Fair in Springfield. Only nine girls were chosen.

On July 25 the girls exhibited their baking skills. The Seniors will have a booth at the Fair and the Juniors will enter peanut butter cookies. The Juniors will enter nut bread, and the Seniors clover leaf rolls made with yeast.

Mrs. Andrew Westberg is leader of the Daisies. Bummage Sale

The Lindenhurst Woman's Club will be having a rummage sale early in September.

Signs
We haven't been bothered with salesmen since I posted this sign: "We shoot every third salesman, the second one just left."

Did you know that a good wife is a woman who sticks by her husband through all the troubles he wouldn't have had if he hadn't married her?

And did you know that for spreading the news, the female of the species is much faster than the male?

Vacation Trips
Bill and Helen Gurski and their three daughters, Kathy, Barbara and Joyce, have returned from their eight day trip to Ullica, New York, where they visited Bill's mother, four brothers and two sisters. While in Corning, New York, they toured the Pyrex plant and watched them make handblown glass ash trays. They visited Niagara Falls on both the American and Canadian sides. They went to Windsor from Ontario, where they stayed overnight. All of the motels where they stayed had pools and the girls went swimming.

While in Detroit they visited an old buddy of Bill's from his Navy days. They both went on the "Washington."

Steve and Evelyn Krakowski and their daughter, Bonnie, spent eight days at Kinross Lodge in Lac de Flambeau, Wis. Mrs. Krakowski's sister, Miss Jean Cymbal also went with them. They took their boat with them and went boating, water skiing and swimming. They saw the Minocqua ski show while in Minocqua.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

The guests at Mrs. Nell Runyard's birthday party were from near and far. The guest who traveled farthest was her sister, Mrs. Grace Measures, from London, England. Traveling the shortest distance was a son, Wilson, still living with his mother, at Rock Lake, Wis.

The occasion was Mrs. Runyard's 80th birthday. The party—a family luncheon—was at the 18th Hole on Route 59 last Sunday, July 22.

Another sister, Mrs. Cicely Todd, came from Calgary, Alberta, Canada, to be present at the party. Both Mrs. Measures and Mrs. Todd flew from their homes, and will spend some time visiting at the Runyard home.

Mrs. Runyard has lived in the Antioch area since 1912. She previously lived in England. She has four sons—Stan, of Waukegan; Wilson, at home; Clarence, of Chicago; and Gerald, the only son who could not be present. He is stationed at Ellsworth Air Force Base.

They found the fishing excellent, and returned with several Northern and Walleyes. Two seven-pound Walleyes were their prize catch.

Who Dry Cleaned A Traveling Man's Clothes In 1861?

Well, it was just too bad, but a traveling drummer either had his clothes scrubbed in a wooden wash tub or wore them dirty because dry cleaning had not been invented. Today, in 1962, hundreds of wise folks send their clothes to us because we have developed modern scientific cleaning methods for every type of fabric, natural or synthetic. That's why we do better cleaning at lower cost. TRY US.

Expert Fishermen To Compete in Sept.

The 1962 Illinois state fishing championship finals to determine the top individual angler, and for the first time, a Mr. and Mrs. Anglers team will be held at Channel Lake and Lake Catherine here in the Chain O' Lakes next September.

The Mr. and Mrs. Anglers finals will be held on Sunday, Sept. 16 and the individual fishoff will take place on Sunday, Sept. 30.

Conducting the fishing tournament finals and some of the eliminations for the second straight year will be Barney Shunneson, operator of the Channel Lake Boat House. The latter will be tournament headquarters.

In addition to the state titles, the individual and Mr. and Mrs. winners will qualify for all-expense paid trips to the World Series of Sport Fishing, Inc., tournaments to be held in October. The Mr. and Mrs. two-day event will be held Oct. 13-14 at Hot Springs, Ark., while the individual will be held again for the second straight year in a series of Oklahoma waters, Oct. 15-19.

Shunneson has been certified by Hy Peskin of Los Angeles, the director-producer of the World Series of Fishing, to hold the state championship, or qualifying for the World Series.

The Channel Lake Boat House will provide the traveling expenses for both the individual and Mr. and Mrs. Angler qualifiers to the World Series. The McCullough Corp., of Minneapolis, will award trophies to each of the state winners. There also will be other prizes for those participating in the state finals.

Both the individual and Mr. and Mrs. State events are open only to Illinois residents, who possess 1962 valid fishing licenses.

Channel Lake and Lake Catherine will hold its eliminations for Mr. and Mrs. Anglers from Sept. 3 (Labor Day Monday) through Sept. 15. Two couples will qualify each day for a total of 26, who'll gain the finals.

Individuals will qualify from Sept. 17 through Sept. 29. Two will qualify each day for a total of 26. They'll be joined by the champions of the last two years.

They are Harold Smiley of Round Lake Park, the defending titleholder, and Bill Hoffman, of Evanston, the 1960 winner.

Since Shunneson has invited other resorts, lakes associations and sportsmen's groups throughout Illinois to hold their own qualifying meets in addition to Channel Lake and Lake Catherine trials, are asked to notify Shunneson of their intentions on or before Aug. 15. Wire, write or phone him at Channel Lake Boat House, R. R. 3, Box 162, Antioch. The phone is ANtich 395-1434.

Each resort, lakes association and sportsmen's group, which conducts its own trial, will be required to pay an entry fee of $25 each for its singles and couples finalists. If both are sent by the same group, then only a fee of $40 will be assessed the sponsoring group.

Anglers attempting to qualify during the Channel Lake and Lake Catherine eliminations will not have to pay an entry. When or how the other invited groups conduct their trials will be left solely to them.

All fees collected by Shunneson from the other resorts, lakes associations and sportsmen's groups conducting eliminations will be used for the finals prize fund.

Although all rules have not been set, the hopefuls will be

Yankees Top Cubs

July 12 results in Lakeland Little League:

In a game played at New Munster the Yankees won over the Cubs in a wild scoring game by a score of 18-16. Each team scored 14 runs in one inning, the Cubs getting theirs in the first and the Yankees in the second. John Erickson led the Yankees with three hits while David Schlitz belted two triples and a single for the Cubs.

The Pirates beat the Braves at the Fox River Park by a 15-10 score as Tommy Hartnell pitched and batted his team to the victory. Hartnell had three hits, including a triple and double. Danny Chiebos, Jimmy Noonan, Gary Hartnell, and Mark Ferguson all had two hits apiece for the Pirates. Bob Chapman walloped four hits for the Braves, including a triple and double, and Mike Sonnichsen had two doubles and Ronnie Warren chipped in with a double and single.

The White Sox hung on to their second place position with a 10-6 win over the Orioles at Silver Lake. Steve Miller and Marty Miller each had three hits for the winning White Sox and John Blaik hit his ninth home run of the season to help in the win. Jimmy Lois and Dennis McCarthy had two hits apiece to pace the Orioles at the plate.

In minor division activity the Bears beat the Rams 13-11 while the Broncos edged the Lions, 15-8. The Rams are still leading the race with a 6-2 record. They are followed by the Bears with 5-4; the Broncos had 4-5; and the Lions are last with 2-6.

Want A Falcon? Just Catch Charlie

"Charlie," the fish that looks like a falcon—to fishermen in the know—still roams the waters of the Chain O' Lakes, unhooked and evidently not hungry. Which lake is at present being honored by Charlie's presence is not known, even by the officials of the contest. They know where Charlie was released, but several of the tagged fish have been caught in lakes some distance from the point of release.

Whoever catches Charlie (providing they catch him on a hook and line and in compliance with state fishing regulations) and brings the fish to an official claiming station, will receive a Ford Falcon from the Pepsi-Cola Company, sponsoring the Chain O' Lakes Fishing Derby. Harvey, a bass wearing tag No. 2, will bring the person who hooks him $1,000. Suzie, a bluegill, is worth $500.00. Lesser prizes for tagged fish are rods, picnic coolers, lures, etc., 3008 all together.

required to fish from a boat. Both artificials and live baits will be used by the Mr. and Mrs. Anglers combines. In the individual meet, only artificials will be allowed.

Little Leaguers Race for 1st Place

The Yankees continued their winning ways in the Lakeland Little League July 16, winning over the Orioles at Silver Lake by a 5-2 score. Burton Tomten pitched the win for the Yanks, allowing just four hits with John Schmalfeldt hitting a double to aid in the win. Kenny Johnson hit a triple and single and Dennis McCarthy had a double to lead the Orioles at the plate.

The White Sox held on to their second place position when they hammered the Braves 13-4 at Twin Lakes. John Blaik hit two home runs; Ronnie Kaskin had three hits, including a triple and double and Steve Miller had two singles besides being the winning pitcher for the White Sox.

The Pirates stayed a game behind the second place

White Sox with a 4-1 decision over the Cubs in a game played at New Munster. Tommy Hartnell was the winning pitcher for the Pirates, allowing just four hits and striking out seven. Mike Wagner and Tim Bohula belted triples for the Pirates with David Schlitz getting a double for the Cubs. Dean Antea pitched for the Cubs and held the Pirates to just five hits.

In the only Minor division game the Rams won over the Lions by a score of 12-2 and held on to their first place position with a 7-2 record.

Tangles, Crashes and Flips at Wilmot Track

Ed Stilman of Milwaukee started seventh and made a dash to the front to take over the lead on the 21st lap and continue on after a restart on the 23rd lap when Bob Karry and Jim Olett got into a bad tangle that caused Fred Reynolds of Milwaukee to flip over, as the two cars crashed against him. On the restart, Karry held onto the second place with Doug Sandel of Milwaukee and Ed Irving of Waukegan following through to the win. Time for the 25 lap feature was 8 minutes, 11.98 seconds.

The semi feature was an equally thrilling event that saw a restart necessary before all cars passed the flagman on the start. Jim Sullivan and Jr. Dodd crashed together and Sullivan was unable to restart.

The winner, Mac Krohn of Lake Geneva, was followed by Rodger Otto and Larry Leach, both of Burlington, and Gordy Gorman of Libertyville. Krohn averaged only 40 mph as he won.

Heat race winners were Glen Eichman of Wauconda; Larry Leach of Burlington;

Doug Bandel of Milwaukee and Bob Karry of Waukegan. In the spectator cars the large turnout of competitors caused a great deal of excitement as 25 cars started the first heat and 28 cars started the 2nd heat. Of this number, 9 cars in the first and 12 in the second became involved in the various tangles, crashes and flips that have set the grandstand fans screaming with delight. John Anderlee and Richard De Groot of Lake Villa won the two heats and Jim Newland of Libertyville won the feature.

Fans were also treated to a "sneak preview" of the action that will be held on Wednesday night, July 25 when the spectator cars and midgets will team up to supply mid-week action.

The point standings remained unchanged in the first five positions as drivers continue in the race for point championship for 1962. Bob Karry is still the leader with Ed Stilman in second. Rounding out the first five are Tom Aschenbrenner; Fred Reynolds; and Rodger Otto.
